FARM FAMILY HONORED - County of St. Paul Reeve Duane Lindberg (centre) presented the Farm Family Award plaque to (left to right) Elisabeth, Dirk, Christoph and Doris Ludlage at the Agricultural Service Board barbecue last Thursday. This week, the Ludlages will be among farm families across the province to be honored at Edmonton Northlands.

Amoco plants may amalgamate

Amoco Canada is considering amalgamating Elk Point's two oil treatment plants into one operation, operating center superintendent Ron Johnson told a public meeting Thursday.

By the late fall, he said, the company might close its plant near Highway 640, and direct all of its heavy crude to a second, larger plant about two miles to the north.

"Probably the biggest impact it'll have for you is traffic," he told 30 residents at the King George Hall, south of Elk Point.

"The oil trucks going to (the southern plant) would now only go to the northern one."

Though closure of the southern plant would also mean a reduction of eight jobs, the employees affected would be able to move elsewhere in the Amoco organization, Johnson said.

He noted the company is considering the move because of waning production in the Elk Point area.

"Right now, both plants are working at about 60 per cent capacity. It's simply a business decision - if production continues to drop off, we'll be seriously considering it."

He said Amoco is investigating secondary recovery methods, including steam, propane, and air injections, which help to draw more oil from the ground.

If those methods boost production in the area, the company might consider reopening the southern plant - "possibly in two or three years."

In other Amoco news, Johnson said the company is drilling seven new wells this year, three of which are going on new sites.

The construction of a sand cavern at the northern plant is also progressing smoothly, he said.

The cavern, designed to hold the sand by-products from the production process, may eventually contain 300,000 cubic metres of sand.

Tour focus on direct seeding

The County of St. Paul held their 1994 Agricultural Service Board Tour last Thursday, with a focus on the increasingly popular practice of direct seeding.

Both forage and grain crops seeded by the no-till method were viewed by the tour participants, who also had the opportunity to see three different makes of direct seeding equipment in action.

Other stops on the tour dealt with livestock watering facilities and the prevention of pasture bloat.

An enthusiastic busload of farm folks left Lac Bellevue Hall just after 9:30 a.m., with their first stop at the St. Paul Grazing Reserve, where they viewed a recently installed windmill which is providing water for three fields of cattle. The windmill is capable of pumping 7 1/4 gallons of water per minute from the 210 foot well with a 23 mile per hour wind. A shed and tower has been installed at the site and will soon have computer equipment installed which will monitor and record wind speed and water pumping volumes.

Water is pumped into a tank made from a recycled mining equipment tire, which is equipped with an overflow line permitting excess water to flow into an adjacent dugout.

The windmill has a shorter tower than its counterparts which were a familiar sight in the farmyards of past years. It also has a larger head with many vanes for more efficient operation, and is equipped with a feature which puts the head out of gear if wind speeds get dangerously high. Another modern feature is a winch which allows the top portion to be lowered for servicing.

From there, the tour continued to Aurele Jean's farm, where a no-till drill was used

Highland touch for Heritage Days

The descendants of North West Company trader Duncan McGillivray will be honored during the Clan Days celebration this Heritage Day weekend at Fort George - o Buckingham House Interpretive Centre.

Sunday will feature an afternoon of traditional entertainment, featuring Fishing Lake's Riel Reelers and Edmonton's Les Bucherons, as well as a children's log-sawing competition and other fur-trade era games.

On Monday, McGillivray's Scottish roots will be honored with a series of Highland Games, such as Tossing the Caber and Hurdling the Haggis, Stiltwalking and the Tartan Mile. There will also be storytelling, horse and wagon rides. Food and refreshments will be available.

Come on out to the Forts for a unique celebration of heritage this weekend. Admission is only $2.25 per adult, $1.25 per youth 7 to 17 years of age, or $5.50 per family of 2 adults and 2 youths. Children under 6 are admitted free.

Town cleans up

The efforts of Elk Point's Beautification Committee to encourage residents, businesses and organizations to spruce up the community are being backed by Elk Point Town Council, which gave all three readings to a revised Untidy and Unsightly Premises Bylaw. The new bylaw speeds up the process which is to be followed if residents or property owners do not keep their premises tidy, and gives the occupant or owner 21 days to comply with the cleanup request, or 10 days to appeal.

Discussion before passing the final reading of the bylaw involved the control of dandelions and noxious weeds. The Town does not spray these because of the potential for spray drift, and cuts them instead, although the possibility of finding a suitable dry control method was mentioned.

Unsightly premises do not refer to buildings, but does include vehicles which are left for long periods of time. Also regarding vehicles, it was noted that the vehicle on which the fire department practices extrication and use of the Jaws of Life is not a pleasant sight. Councillor Povashuk volunteered to see what could be done about this.

"Gentle reminders" regarding untidy yards and vehicles parked on Town property have been sent out, Administrator Curt Svendsen said, with the majority of recipients responding positively, although there were several telephone calls to councillors and one letter from a disgruntled resident. Mayor Ed Buck noted that "we cannot make exceptions to the bylaw."

to seed a mixture of orchard grass and timothy directly into sod, without prior cultivation. The land was treated with one litre of Roundup per acre three weeks before planting on June 1, 1993, and Jean said he was cutting hay by September. One problem he noted was that his previous problem with foxtail reoccurred after seeding. He had also had a problem with broadleaf weeds, but these were eradicated by spraying with Basagran. Jean said the orchard grass grows well, but should not be pastured too short and takes longer to dry for baling than some other varieties.

Another stop was also made at another portion of the Jean farm, where another grass crop planted by the same method this spring is just emerging.

The problem with cattle bloating on alfalfa pasture was addressed at the next stop, where Dr. Craig Hellquist of the St. Paul Veterinary Clinic was on hand to demonstrate Rumensin CRC. This compound, encased in a large, time-release plastic capsule, can be administered to grass cattle with a bolus gun, and stays in the stomach to protect the animal from bloat for approximately 120 days. Hellquist says the product, which is widely used in Australia and New Zealand, reduces mortality by 80 percent and the occurrence of bloat by 50 percent.

Each capsule is equipped with 'wings,' roughly the size and shape of a coffee stir stick, which presumably prevent the device from being regurgitated. However, Hellquist suggested that the number printed on each capsule be recorded along with the number of the animal which received it, in case one accidentally was spit up, so it could be readministered. Cattle must be observed for several hours after treatment, which should be done a week before they go out on pasture.

A brief stop was made at a fine stand of field peas, which are the "Orb" semi-leafless variety. A portion of the field was treated with 'Provide,' a chemical which releases phosphorous in the soil and promotes growth of taller and thicker stalks, increased root mass and improved seed quality. Provide also can be used on wheat, canola and lentils, with similar results.

Then it was on to the barley trial plots along Highway 28 in the St. Edouard area, on land provided by Andre Pomerleau. Nine varieties of barley had been seeded with the County's no-till drill on a previous sod field which was sprayed with .9 litre of Roundup per acre before seeding and with 2-4-D this spring. Varieties included Falcon, a higher producing hulless 6-row barley; Condor, a 2-row hulless; Virden, a tall 6-row which is excellent for silage; Leduc, a 6-row feed barley which provided the best looking stand of the lot; Manley, a newer 2 row which was just heading out; Brier, a 6-row silage variety; Bridge, a 2-row which gave a rather disappointing performance; Abbee, a high producing 2-row feed barley, and Harrington, the malt standard 2-row which grain crop specialist Jay Buyar said "has been around forever."

From there, the tour headed south to Stoney Lake Municipal Recreation Area, where the group enjoyed a fine barbecue lunch and the cooling lakeside breeze.

First stop after lunch was at the farm of County Councillor Ray Danyluk, for two demonstrations. First was the liming of a dugout. Hydrated lime (calcium hydroxide) was mixed with water and sprayed over the dugout with a high pressure hose, forming a layer which will gradually sink to the bottom of the dugout, taking with it algae, turbidity and phosphorus. The lime will also "tie up" nutrients in the water and starve the algae. Representatives of B & B Liming, who conducted the demonstration, said the water would be suitable for consumption by livestock, with the exception of chickens, within one hour. Chickens cannot use lime-treated water for a week after treating. It was also noted that water with fish in it cannot be treated, and that fish should not be put into treated water for a month.

The second demonstration gave viewers a firsthand look at three varieties of no-till drills: the County's own John Deere, plus Haybuster and Great Plains models owned by local farmers. Dirk Ludlage, Murray Babcock and Ray Danyluk discussed their experiences with the machines, and answered a number of questions from those who watched them in action. Ludlage and Babcock do basically all their seeding by the no-till method.

Two fields of Danyluk's wheat, seeded with the John Deere no-till, were the next stop. One of these was treated with Prevail herbicide, which controls both grassy and broadleaf weeds.

The final stop on the tour was at the Ludlage farm, where participants saw a fine stand of Katepwa wheat which was seeded with the Haybuster.

Then it was back on the bus to return to Lac Bellevue Hall, where a steak barbecue supper awaited. Draws were made for a number of caps, courtesy of the County of St. Paul, mugs from the Alberta Cattle Commission, a cooler bag from Provel, and a case of Prevail herbicide. Other sponsors of the day were Agland, Dow Elanco and Monsanto.

County Reeve Duane Lindberg was on hand to present the County's Northlands Farm Family Award to Dirk and Doris Ludlage and family, along with a gift from the County. Ludlage said he and his family are "very honored" although they "didn't do this to get an award."

MLA Paul Langevin was along on the tour, and added his congratulations to the Ludlages. He also congratulated the County and their staff for the excellent tour which he said had reinforced his belief that "we live in the best county in the province."

line upgrading is in full swing, and Council addressed concerns with trucks and equipment entering the highway from these avenues. The engineering firm in charge of the project will be advised that it is necessary to have flag people on hand to direct traffic and avert problems.

A $200,000 first payment under the Safe Streets grant will be arriving shortly, Council was advised.

Another problem was also noted regarding Highway 41. Motorists, especially on weekends and early mornings, are ignoring the posted speed limits. The RCMP will be asked for their assistance in slowing down the speeders.

Planning for Town Office upgrading is still underway. After much debate, Council agreed on a dark green roof and fascia for the building, and agreed to have a new furnace and air conditioning unit installed.

Heads UP.

There's a fine line between safe and sorry.

Electricity is a fact of life. In fact, it's so much a part of everyday life that people forget the potential for accidents. Any contact with overhead power lines or exposed wires can cause serious injury. And underground power lines are equally dangerous to anyone who digs without locating them. Understanding how electricity works can keep you, and those close to you, safe. When it comes to electricity, what you don't know can hurt you. For more information on electrical safety, call your local Alberta Power office.

Matthews jumps to Nationals

North Eastern Alberta Track and Field Club athletes Joni Matthews and Glen Cherniwchan are both well known for their jumping ability. But what they did at the Alberta Legion Camp track and field championships in Calgary last week borders on the ridiculous.

They ended up landing in Ottawa.

Matthews and Cherniwchan have qualified for the National Legion Camp track and field championships in Ottawa Aug. 4-11 after their performance last week in Calgary.

Matthews won the midget girls' long jump with a leap of 5.27 metres.

She says she'll have to better that in order to strike gold in Ottawa.

"I'll have to have a personal best to win - probably a 5.6 or 5.7," the 15-year-old Matthews said. "I have to work on my landing - I have to extend myself more."

Matthews has surpassed the national standard distance of 4.75 metres in every meet she's competed in this year. Her PB in the long jump is 5.57 metres.

Matthews won the midget girls' long jump national championships last year in Saskatoon.

She'll be extending her body to the limit in Ottawa - e she received word yesterday that she has also qualified for the 200 metres, 400 metres and will also be a member of

Adopt a Highway

A drive along Alberta's primary highways provides beautiful scenery. Let's keep it that way.

Whether you're a community group, local business or a concerned individual, you can take part in the new Adopt a Highway program to keep Alberta clean. Beginning August 2, 1994, you can apply to adopt a portion of any primary highway in Alberta and promise to clean it at least once a year. In exchange, you'll receive recognition on a sign for the section of highway that you agree to adopt.

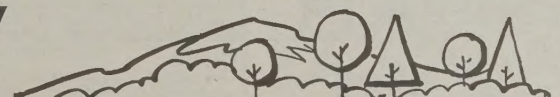

Applications will be treated on a first come, first serve basis, so hurry to your nearest Alberta Transportation and Utilities office, or call 427-3110 for more information.

International Year of the Family Region 6 update

Linnette Newby
Committee Member

With June 1, 1994, behind us, we are half way through the Year of the Family 1994.

"Families, the Heart of the Matter" has certainly been a slogan that many Region 6 committees have developed some excellent programs around. Everything from fun days to events that evaluate families and welcome input to the Premier's Council's Healthy Families questions, which will become part of a package to encourage legislation changes to strengthen our most valuable unit, The Family.

Smoky Lake - Celebrating The Family Conference

This two day conference, hosted March 25-26, 1994, had excellent participation from many Region 6 communities.

The conference topics included issues about children, parenting, family and work balance, healthy relationships and communication, all addressed through many presenters. An excellent opportunity to get in touch with yourself and your family. A job well done by the organizing committee. For more information, contact Shirley Lorimer at 656-2255.

12th Annual Town and Country Women's Conference

Farm women from Region 6 enjoyed this conference, which included many quality speakers that spoke about families and the value of every member's contribution. Coordinated by farm women and St. Paul Alberta Agriculture - 645-6301.

Northeast Region FCSS Spring Conference

Hosted in Elk Point April

15-16, 1994, the theme was "Families Build Strong Communities." Topics included Dynamics of Family Relations with an excellent presentation from Vermilion Social Services worker Jean Atcheson. The local Further Education Council hosted the same presentation for the community with many families attending.

Pastor Jim MacLellan led a session titled "Rights and Responsibilities of Alberta Families." Excellent information was gathered and forwarded to the Alberta Premier's Council.

Coordinated by the Town of Elk Point, Town of St. Paul and County of St. Paul FCSS programs.

Thorhild Interagency Council

Thorhild Interagency Council hosted a one day workshop for everyone three years of age and up. Titled "Building People Up" this workshop focused on self-esteem, respect for self and others, and recognizing strengths and uniqueness of all individuals. All sessions were thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. Following this workshop, many individuals and families have taken part in responding to the Premier's Council's Healthy Family Questions, with the Library coordinating this opportunity ongoing. For more information, contact Carol Revega at 398-3688.

Mallaig Community School

This community has hosted two excellent family projects with the aim of promoting meaningful family activities, encouraging the family to spend time together.

1. Family crest project - p which encouraged families to create a family crest symbolizing their family, culture, etc. to enhance their family togetherness. Prizes were awarded to the families who participated in this excellent project.

2. Family Reading Time - b this project was in place for four weeks, ending in mid-May. Families were asked to participate in Family Reading Time. Minutes were recorded weekly and a large barometer

Tribute to Hot Chocolate

A Great Athlete from the Kingdom of Horses

Howdy folks, howdy you're all looking great,
Keep your eyes peeled on that entrance gate.
Now if you folks are all set,
A grand entry for Les Trach
And the great bucking horse, Hot Chocolate.

Registered Quarter Horse gelding, solid as a rock,
An athlete horse that just loves to buck,
After throwing his rider he trots with grace,
You would sweat that old hoss
Has a smile on his face.

For many years Les's pride and joy,
That horse loves to buck, boy oh boy.
Bronc riders are adored by every buckle bunny,
Stay on for eight seconds cowboy
And Mister, you're in the money.

All summer long from show to rodeo,
Hot Chocolate has bucked twice in Texas - El Paso.
A stylish buckner, won many an award,
Cowboys love to draw him,
Even though the ride is hard.

Lakeland Rodeo bronc of the year,
Made many bronc riders cry in their beer.
Has won that title nine times out of ten,
Don't be surprised if he does it again.
So let's pay a great tribute to him.

Hot Chocolate first made the rodeo scene
Bucked out as a tryout horse that was green.
Was quickly purchased by the Les Trach team.
A great horse athlete, that claim I make,
See him buck out here today at Stoney Lake.

Busy summertime at the library

Michele Duczek
Librarian

Things are busy at the library this month. The Reading Rodeo continues and registrations for the program are at an all-time high. Registrations for library memberships are continuing at a steady pace. All those who haven't renewed their memberships and anyone who would like to purchase a membership for the rest of the year can do so by talking to me, Michele, at the library.

Thanks to Amoco Canada for their donation of $500 to the library to help offset decreases in grant funding. That is the kind of mail I like to open.

One new book arrived this past week, The Art of Staying Together by Michael S. Broder. The author's premise is that there is no one "right" way to conduct a relationship. He describes the different kinds of relationships in which people are involved and how they work. Dr. Broder also offers blame-free nonjudgmental advice for determining what will work best for you and your partner.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

Tuesdays and Fridays throughout July and August: The Reading Rodeo is on Tuesdays at 10 a.m. for older kids and Fridays at 10 a.m. for younger kids.

The Friends of the Library might want to check their calendars. The next bingo is a Thursday evening, August 18.

DID YOU KNOW:

World War I began 76 years ago this week when Austria-Hungary, with the backing of Germany, declared war on Serbia on July 28, 1914. Russia supported Serbia, France supported Russia and eventually Britain became involved when the Germans violated Belgium's neutrality on their way to France.

IYF Region 6 update is visible to the community in support of Quality Family Time Togetherness. For more information, contact Lorraine Langager at 635-3858.

Heinsburg Community School

Heinsburg Community School hosted an IYF celebration on April 26, 1994. The celebration began with a pyrohy supper followed by family games (children's and board), badminton, cards and much more. This was an excellent family celebration and was shared by many volunteer organizations.

Family Bicycle Rodeo

Hosted May 14, 1994, the intent was to promote safe cycling and proper helmet use, as well as to encourage family members to have fun together. Co-sponsored by the Health Unit, RCMP, Heart Health Project and the St. Paul and District Lions Club. For more information contact Laura Plett at 645-3396.

Mayor's Task Force - IYF Kickoff June 12, 1994

The communities of Grand Centre, Cold Lake and Municipal District of Bonnyville have formed a task force responsible to recommend policy to local municipal governments on issues that impact their communities. Some research is currently being completed on these issues: Public Security, Transportation, Housing, Recreation, Environment, Infrastructure and Hard Services, Local Grants, Services to the Public, Human Resources. Recommendations will be put forward in the fall.

As a kick-off, to get families enthused and provide input, a Family Fun Forum was hosted on June 12.

The Task Force will host a IYF Family Celebration October 22, 1994. This will include sessions about family issues, child care and other family fun related activities.

For more information, contact Claire Crawford at 639-3626.

Remember, the Council has information available to help promote IYF activities in your community.

This is a brief update of Region 6 IYF events to date. Many more are being planned in communities, including the Ashmont Agricultural Society Family Fun Days on July 30 and 31, and a special celebration of the International Year of the Family, combined with the 35th anniversary of Shandro Historical Village and Pioneer Museum on August 7. GET INVOLVED. You are an important part of our family, Region 6.

Region 6 Committee includes: Terri Ehlert, Elk Point FCSS, Bart Eisen, County of Smoky Lake, Sister Mary Halder, NE Alberta Health Unit; Shirley Lorimer, Smoky Lake FCSS; and Linnette Newby, County of St. Paul FCSS.

Besides winning the long jump, Matthews also picked up a silver medal in the 400 metres with a time of 59.02. She took home a pair of bronze medals after finishing third in both the 100 metres and the 200 metres.

Cherniwchan found out he was just a hop, skip and a jump away from Ottawa.

He qualified for nationals in the juvenile boys' triple jump - jumping 12.70 metres in winning a silver medal in Calgary. The national standard is 12.65 metres.

It will be Cherniwchan's first chance at Nationals.

"I don't know what to expect, I don't know what the competition will be like," he said. "I'd like to jump at least 13 (metres)."

Cherniwchan has been battling a sprained ankle the last couple of weeks but should be healthy for nationals.

National Farm Safety Week
July 25 - 31, 1994

Ten tips for safety

As a sponsor of National Farm Safety Week, John Deere has prepared a list of "Ten Tips for Safety". Take a few minutes to review these tips with both the children and adults in your family.

Ten Tips for Safety

1. Take time to be safe. Saving a few minutes is not worth the chance of losing a lifetime.
2. Teach children about farm safety. Help kids learn safety rules early. Repeat lessons often.

3. Say "no" to riders. It's too dangerous to let children ride along on farm equipment -- no matter how much they beg.

4. Teach safety by good example. Actions speak louder than words.

5. Take a break. Take a few minutes to rest during a long job. Fatigue leads to accidents.

6. Let them know where you are. In case of an accident while you're working alone, timely help can mean the difference between life and death.

7. Keep equipment in good working order. Check regularly for loose and worn parts. Be sure safety features, including reflectors and warning signs, are operating properly.

8. Read the manual. The operator's manual is your single best source of safety precautions. Study it. Keep it handy.

9. Shut off power. Always engage the power and shut off the engine before working on any part of a machine.

10. Stay alert to safety. Never bypass safety procedures. Don't take dangerous shortcuts. Always be aware of what could happen.

In addition here are some easy ways to avoid common accidents with tractors:

- Help prevent serious injuries from a tractor rollover by installing a rollover protective structure (ROPS)
- Always use the seat belt with your ROPS
- Avoid bypass starting
- Use lights, SMV signs, and PTO shields.

Safety is everyone's job, all the time.

NPCA update

Grant Preece turned in the top times both Saturday and Sunday to win the Northern Professional Chuckwagon Association's meet at St. Walburg, Saskatchewan this weekend. Ray Mitsuing of Meadow Lake placed second out of 26 wagons, with Luke Tournier third and Jim Knight fourth. All four of these wagons have just returned from the 10 day Calgary Stampede.

Preece's wagon swept around the track in 1:04.27 on Saturday, 62 / 100 seconds faster than second place Bruce Morin, and 1.6 seconds faster than third place Mitsuing. He bettered his own time by a full half second with a scorching 1:03.77 on Sunday, for a two day total time of 2:07.99. Mitsuing also speeded up by an exact 1.5 seconds on Sunday for second day money and a total time of 2:10.24.

Information received to date from the first day's running of Cheyenne Frontier Days showed Bert Croteau placing first and second, Brian Laboucane third and fourth, and Buddy Bensmiller placing fifth. Sunday's times were not available.
